

TARGET MARKET DETERMINATION

Legal Disclaimer

This Target Market Determination (TMD) is required under section 994B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (the Act). It sets out the class of consumers for whom the product, including its key attributes, would likely be consistent with their likely objectives, financial situation and needs. In addition, the TMD outlines the triggers to review the target market and certain other information. It forms part of Rhodes Asset Management Ltd's design and distribution arrangements for the product.

This document does not take into account any person's individual objectives, financial situation or needs. Persons interested in acquiring this product should carefully read the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) for the Quantum Leap Alternative Credit Fund (Fund), which is constituted by the Quantum Leap Alternative Credit Class of Units in the Rhodes Credit Fund, before making a decision whether to buy this product.

Description of target market

TMD indicator key

The Consumer Attributes for which the product is likely to be appropriate have been assessed using a red/amber/green rating methodology with appropriate colour coding:

In target market	Potentially in target market	Not considered in target market
------------------	------------------------------	---------------------------------

Instructions

In the tables below, Column 1, Consumer Attributes, indicates a description of the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the class of consumers that are considering this product. Column 2, TMD indicator, indicates whether a consumer meeting the attribute in Column 1 is likely to be in the target market for this product.

Generally, a consumer is unlikely to be in the target market for the product if:

- one or more of their Consumer Attributes correspond to a red rating, or
- three or more of their Consumer Attributes correspond to an amber rating.

Investment products and diversification

A consumer (or class of consumer) may intend to hold a product as part of a diversified portfolio (typically with an intended product use of satellite/small allocation or core component). In such circumstances, the product should be assessed against the consumer's attributes for the relevant portion of the portfolio, rather than the consumer's portfolio as a whole. For example, a consumer may seek to construct a conservative portfolio with a satellite/small allocation to growth assets. In this case, it may be likely that a product with a high or very high risk/return profile is consistent with the consumer's objectives for that allocation notwithstanding that the risk/return profile of the consumer as a whole is low or medium. In making this assessment, distributors should consider all features of a product (including its key attributes).

Consumer Attributes	TMD Indicator	Product Description incl. Key Attributes
Consumer's investment objective
Capital Growth		The Fund is a sub-trust in a registered managed investment scheme which is created to offer its unitholders an investment exposure to a pool of secured commercial loans (Loans) built over time with the objective to generate a regular income return once Loans are made.
Capital Preservation
Capital Guaranteed
Income Distribution		It is expected that Loans made by the Fund will be secured by assets at an acceptable loan-to-value ratio set out in the PDS. As with the nature of Loans, there are various risks which include commercial and credit risk. This means that the Fund is not suitable for persons who cannot tolerate any loss of capital which may occur if any borrower defaults. It is important that prospective investors and unitholders understand that since the Fund is newly established, it can be expected that distributions would be irregular in the first year (if any at all).

Consumer's intended product use (% of Investible Assets)
Solution/Standalone (75-100%)		The Fund constitutes a low diversification product in that it only has an investment exposure to a single asset class being Loans with limited differentiating factors amongst each Loan in the loan portfolio. In the context of a balanced portfolio, this product should only receive a small allocation.
Core Component (25-75%)
Satellite/Small Allocation (<25%)
Consumer's investment timeframe
Short (less than 2 years)		Each unitholder must hold their investment in the Fund for a minimum investment term of twelve (12) months before becoming eligible to request to receive a withdrawal offer. It is important that potential investors and unitholders consider the Fund objective, the investment strategy as well as the nature of the Fund investment exposure, in light of the investment timeframe.
Medium (more than 2 year and less than 5 years)
Long (more than 5 years)
Consumer's risk (ability to bear loss) and return profile
Low		This product is not designed for consumers with a low risk profile. This means that this product is not suitable for consumers who expect their capital or returns to be guaranteed. This product provides consumers with an exposure to Loans which may generate an income return. This product is more suitable for consumers with a medium to high risk profile.
Medium
High
Consumer's need to withdraw money
Short (less than 2 years)		Unitholders in the Fund are subject to a minimum investment term condition of twelve (12) months. After satisfying this condition, those unitholders may apply to receive a withdrawal offer if made. The responsible entity and investment manager of the Fund will review the Fund's financial position on a quarterly basis to determine the amount of surplus cash available (if any) to be set aside to make withdrawal offers.
Medium (more than 2 year and less than 5 years)
Long (more than 5 years)
